The Next Ten Years 30th Note. Dominion Veritas unfinished story, Gaia: Save The Earth preview, A Word about copyright, sharing, free draft readings and plagiarism.

The Next Ten Years 30th Note

The 30th note!! Very excited to say this. I started writing TNTY because of these four games that were in mind that I would've liked to make.

Four games, all fiction based off people that exist in real life: James O' Keefe, Henri Rollins, Elon Musk and Greta Thunberg.

Each of these individuals, have an unique journey in their real lives, worth making a fictional game for... whether you simpatize with them and their views of whats best for our world.

I have had a lot of fun so far writing all of these fictional stories for Dominion Veritas, a fictional game I created, revolving James O' Keefe and his real life organization Project Veritas.

TNTY will take more time than expected... I am almost at page 100 just writing the 1st part of the book, all about Dominion Veritas / Dominion Veritas: Aeternum... and I have still a lot of stories to write.

Anyway, before the book gets completed, I will be releasing it for free, for everyone to read it, from time to time, as what I call 'unedited drafts'.

To me, the finished book will have all stories organized and illustrated, which will involve paying artist(s) to do these.

All of the artwork done will be done in Japanese Anime art. I bring my crazy stories and ideas, and I present them in anime aesthetics. That is my style, as a creator.

I grew up watching a lot of Anime and playing a lot of Japanese games. I still do, to this day. So I guess you could say that at least gameplay and visuals of all my works, would really resonate to people from Japan and everyone that loves this stuff like me.

With that said, as you know, my goal is to write the best story I can, based on my ability. I will never deceive you, or rape characters, etc.

I.e. Kevin Smith has done a show for Netflix about He-man. He says its all about him, but then he kills him, and the show becomes about some woman you don't care a bit about. When you complain and call him up on his lies, he tells you to shut up and grow up, even though he's the one to blame for the story disaster.

He lied to you.

I will never ever, fucking lie to you... or rape you like Kevin Smith has, or many sellout creators do on a daily basis.

If I tell you a story about James O Keefe, the whole damn story revolves around him. I tell you a story about Greta Thunberg, the whole damn story revolves around her... and like I said before, whether you agree with their overall views of what would make the world a better place, I am here to do the best I can to make the coolest story I can.

I will not sacrifice my great story and great character journeys and great ideas for the sake of pushing any particular political, cultural or religious ideology.

A big "fuck you" to all of you sellouts who rape your great artistic works like that. You're pathetic...

Anyway, cheers! To the finishing up of the 1st part of TNTY (the completed 1st draft) and what I call the acceptable amount of stories for Dominion Veritas.

1st Draft: Dominion Veritas / DV AE
2nd Draft: Gaia: Save the Earth
3rd Draft: Merchant: The Seven Plagues
4th Draft: Space X: Ascend the Stars

Dominion Veritas (unfinished story)

I am nor done writing stories for Dominion Veritas and Dominion Veritas: Aeternum. Though I will not be telling you these stories yet, reader... I will do later on.

Some of these stories involve The Demoncrats, where James have to destroy this Russian Spy group lead by Alexei.

Also, I have a good story planned for David Johnson, involving racist children and stuff, as well completing unconcluding stuff that needs to be explained.

Gaia: Save The Earth (preview)

As a briefly explained before, Gaia: Save the Earth is a game design document story that revolves around Greta Thunberg.

Leonardo Di Caprio is a big part of this story, as in real life he is someone who has partnered with Greta to fight this whole global warming...

I personally think the global warming is bullshit, at least the way our world leaders go about it is... this story presents all the aspects, from the believer and skeptics like me...

With that said, my story is the same quality and style as I have written as Dominion Veritas so far...

You are going to like this story, whether you agree or disagree with the whole climate change stuff. I promise.

Here is a lame short preview (Each story take as much effort as writing stuff for Dominion Veritas) of what happens in Gaia: STE:

16 yrs old... The journey of Greta Thunberg starts in sweden. Frustrated for the lack of progress done worldwide about Climate Change, she decides to start making a change in her home country of Sweeden.

She then goes to a nearby farm, and tries to eliminate the carbon footprint, by murdering a bunch of cows who are farting Co2.

The farmer man (1st boss) gets so mad, he pulls a shotgun and tries to kill Greta. Greta has to fight him. At some point, he overpowers her, tortures her, and as he is about to kill her, a helicopter descends, and guards shoot the farmer to death.

Alexander Soros, the son of George Soros, steps down and then recruits Greta to work for him, in the name of fighting Climate Change.

This is a beat-em-up with RPG character development and detailed story cutscenes, which is what you will be reading a lot about in the 2nd draft of TNTY.

18 yr old Greta is then given special combat powers of Earth / Plant / Nature elements by the Soros family. She then is tasked to travel different locations around the world in order to fight for her cause.

Along her journey, she meets Leonardo Di Caprio. He will assist in some of her missions.

43 yr old Leonardo Di Caprio play a big role in my story. In my story, there are a lot of jokes of how he likes really young (legal) women. Greta is in love with him and in many dialogue scenes she just tries to get it on with him...

Leo likes younger women, but he refuses coz shes 18 haha. He does kiss her, before he dies after a very important combat scene that happens in the main story.

Why does Leo dies? Well, he dies in every damned movie he is in!! Get the joke? XD so he has to die here too!!

The last offical boss of 'Gaia Save the Earth' is Bill Gates, an ultra rich man who wants to kill humanity, through deadly-vaccines, deadly mosquitoes, and ultimately terraform the Earth for his own goals. He uses Martial arts, and other crazy techniques to destroy Greta Thunberg.

In the end, after Greta defeats Bill Gates... she hops on a helicopter and has a conversation with Alexander Soros. Alexander then reveals for what he really is, and his true goals for how to rule the Earth, he then shoots Greta to death and she falls to her death out the helicopter...

Greta dies. Then Alexander spreads a bio weapon that causes people suffer and die. Greta then reincarnates into Gaia, in the form of a tree, located in Sweeden, and whenever people reach her they get healed from the bioweapon deployed by Alex.

Ultimately, Alexander is the real antagonist of the whole story... he descends into Sweeden and tries to kill the reincarnation of Greta into Gaia, the tree that can heal those wounded by the bioweapon he deployed in order to reduce the world's population.

As Gaia, you must kill Alexander and his army of men who are trying to kill you.

This was just a super lame short explanation of the insane stuff I have imagined. For sake of spoiling what make any of these stories great, I wrote it this way.

Anyway, there are fatalities in this game. Each time you kill someone, its like Mortal Kombat stuff. Each time Bill Gates hurt Greta in a special attack, you can see Greta having her broken bones and so on.

Beat-em-up gameplay, RPG character growth, Epic deep story, Mortal Kombat fatalities and violence is what Gaia Save the Earth is all about... 8 stages, where her entire story is explained. :)

Also, a lot of young 18 yr old nudity from Greta side... having her tits exposed and so on. I like to add some hentai into all of my stories haha.
